Health and Dental Plan

Presenter: Sophia Haque

- Background: plan voted on as a student initiative; over 37k students enrolled in the plan; $7.4 million dollars in Health and Dental Claims;
- Plan allows to enroll dependents; and is managed by AMS/GSS Health and Dental Plan committee [HDPC].
- Why does it exist: threefold reason – inexpensive (individual insurance costs up to 5 times the cost of the plan), non-discriminatory (same group regardless of age and sex), accessible (all students qualify for plan regardless of pre-existing conditions).
- StudentCare: started 20 years ago; now employs over 100 individuals;
- What we do: manage health and dental plan student experience; lobby on behalf of students to insurance companies.
- Plan networks offer additional savings and discounts to students.
- Vision: new updated network;
- Dental network offers 20% off;
- Usage: students are not required to go to specific practitioners in the network; only when want to save more;
- Health Claims: the biggest portion of the plan is prescription drugs; vision care makes a second large piece, etc.
- Dental Claims: total at $4,107,290.
- Student Feedback: conducted surveys asking input on plan services, coverage and communication, later used to manage Plan structure reflecting students’ priorities; also reviewing existing terms towards better coverage and more options.
- Planning for the year ahead:
  1. Evaluate coverage levels and options;
  2. Student survey: coverage focus;
  3. Review current fee structure (CPI adjustments, looking to increase fee)
  4. Administrative adjustments (leave of absence, travelling, etc.)

Questions & Answers:

It was asked and answered that claims are shown separately for health and dental parts of the plan. It was further mentioned that dental claims\(^1\) comprise a bigger part of total claims.

It was further said that on many campuses graduate and undergraduate students have separate plans. Differently, UBC undergrads and grads make one membership group. There are both pros and cons to this structure. While larger pool keeps the cost down, less flexibility and options are available.

It was further mentioned that the cost of plan varies across Canada and depends on the size of a group. Comparable grad student plans go as high as $400.

It was further emphasized on the limits of a total cap. Committee will be looking into possible fee increase and adding more services.

\(^1\) Presentation “Health and Dental Plan”: Dental Claims - $4,107,290; Health Claims - $3,300,845.
Motion to extend time for 5 minutes.

MOVER: Tobias Friedel  SECONDER: Andrew Alexander
MOTION PASSED

It was further asked about the mental health programs, to which the answer was that Plan includes psychology coverage. It was also noted that there is an increased interest in better access to counselling services. Looking to expand, however, overall cap remains an issue at hand.

It was further asked about customization of a plan – allocate particular amounts to specific areas of medical service, to which the answer was that the decision is with the membership as to what structure Plan shall have. It was further stated that customized plans have been piloted at SFU, and generally, possible to introduce at UBC.

It was lastly asked and answered that individual inquiries can be made in person at the Health and Dental office in the AMS Nest, 3rd floor.

- Presidential Search Committee Update

  Presenter: Amber Shilling, GSS Representative on Presidential Search Committee

  - Strictly bound by confidentiality agreement; general update on the work of the Presidential Search Committee (PSC);
  - First meeting: started looking into the process, signed extensive confidentiality agreement, early discussions on potential search firms;
  - Second meeting: met with search firm Perret Laver one-on-one on Dec.1st; large group meeting on Dec.2nd reviewed previous process; and began to develop draft timeline: looking to make a decision in June 2016 with a seated President for September 2016.
  - Perret Laver was chosen to conduct presidential search; has office in Vancouver. Firm has excellent experience in finding top level executives for higher educational establishments, i.e. University of Washington: http://www.washington.edu/presidentssearch/files/2015/07/15_PrezProfile-0731.pdf
  - Committee has reviewed candidate profile to hire Gupta and found that no leadership priorities were set back then; looking to include these in the current profile.
  - PSC: seeking input on qualities and characteristics that a new president shall have; submit feedback on bog.ubc.ca;
  - Townhall: January 13th; reminders will be sent out early January.

Questions&Answers

It was asked and answered that Perret Laver is a well-established firm that conducts search of top Executives world-wide, does a lot of work in higher education. Perret Laver did search for MIT, Oxford, University of Saskatchewan, etc.

It was also asked and answered that committee members were not given budget numbers what is going to be spent.
It was further asked and answered that open call for search firms was made to institutions in Canada. PSC has discussed and reviewed top three candidates; Vancouver-based Perret Laver has been chosen to conduct presidential search.

It was further mentioned that it is difficult to guarantee anything at this point, however, students are welcome to submit their concerns or questions on the BOGs website. It was further noted that due to ambitious timeline the cost may be higher; will be negotiating this balance. It was further noted that Dr. Martha C. Piper will resign in June.

It was finally stated that students will have an opportunity to meet search committee members in person. There are two/three townhalls organized on Jan. 13th; opportunity for graduate students to provide valuable input.

Motion to extend for 5 minutes.

MOVER: Charlie Deng  SECONDER: Mary Caple

MOTION PASSED

  Graduate Council Student Caucus Annual Goals, 2015/2016

  Represent UBC graduate students in the Faculty of Graduate and Postdoctoral Studies (G+PS) Council.

  Goal #1: Ensure adequate and ongoing student representation in discussions surrounding graduate

  Background: Supervision is a foremost concern for many graduate students. The GSS has been working to assess this concern (e.g., a 2014 survey from the GSS on graduate student-supervisor experiences), to assist graduate students with these matters (e.g., the GSS Advocacy Office), and to improve circumstances by working with the University (e.g., a proposal brought to the Senate Teaching and Learning Committee in 2014). Progress on these largest goals could be made by working with the Faculty (G+PS), which has reported on the development of a new framework for supervision, including a request for insight on appropriate metrics to assess graduate supervision. These conversations will be ongoing and student participation and consultation would greatly contribute to this project as well as possibly improving the framework to the mutual benefit of supervisors and students for the future.

  What we aim to do: Improve student representation in these discussions to be sure the student voice is heard and considered in the development of a new supervisory pedagogical and assessment framework.

  Steps we will take to meet this goal:

  - Request any available documentation from these discussions;
  - Inquire about student representation in these ongoing discussions;
  - Request increased student representation, beginning with Graduate Council student representatives;
  - Contact the GSS VP Academic, GSS Student Senators, and the GSS Academic & External Affairs Committee for ongoing information and feedback
  - Consider conducting an additional survey – or include relevant questions in a GSS survey – to reach more graduate students for input

  Goal #2: Improve communication and accessibility to UBC graduate students and GSS Councilors on ongoing work in Graduate Council.

  Steps we will take to meet this goal:

- Senate – Sarah Simon and Nick Dawson

  Hi everyone,

  I apologize that I am unable to join you tonight as my presence is required in the lab. There are no updates from Senate at this time as Senate and the committees I am part of have not met since the last GSS meeting. I also understand that tonight is the night that we are to give an update on the strategic goals for the year. I cannot speak to the strategic goals of Senate as a whole, I can speak to things that I have been advocating and lobbying for.

  Firstly, I was recently appointed Vice-Chair of the Senate Academic Policy committee - this gives me a unique position to advocate for graduate student interests at this very important committee. Lately, one important theme of our discussions has been incorporating mental health considerations into academic policies. With help from the AMS, Access & Diversity, and the Faculties of Science & Arts, we’ve begun discussion on how things like the structure of the academic year and course syllabi, for examples, affect the mental health of students. One of my goals is to push graduate supervision to the forefront of these discussions so we can start to talk about what meaningful policy would look like.

  My second major focus has been in the budget committee. As you know, Senate does not concern itself matters of finances, however, administration is required to consult and keep the Senate Budget Committee up to date on financial matters. Recently, this committee has been ineffective because administration has only been giving the committee information after decisions have been made. We are working to become more of a consultation body, where they seek our advice during decision making processes, rather than just telling us what is going to happen. I am also working with our student BoG reps and the AMS to start discussions within the budget committee on how to open a dialogue with BoG to voice our concerns about issues related to academic matters.

  If you’d like to discuss any of these initiatives with me, please shoot me an email!
