   UBC Centre for Excellence in Indigenous Health – Dr. Linc Kesler
A proposal has been made to establish a centre for indigenous health called the UBC Centre for Excellence in Indigenous Health. In line with the new authority in health care provision for aboriginal health, this centre has a focus in three critical areas: research, curriculum and support of students. There is also an overarching principal component of partnership to encourage connections among people in a framework which can be fully implemented. The aim of is to establish a coherent and integrated community that emphasizes a sharing of research models which are collaborative and work well with the indigenous communities. This is done with the hopes that it will lead to advancement in the field, such as better development of curriculum around aboriginal health, offer training at UBC across disciplines to give people ways to interact with aboriginal communities that is functional. It hopes to encourage participation with an ultimate goal of supporting the people in the field for meaningful social change for the aboriginal people.

- It was asked if there are ways, besides providing feedback on the proposal, that graduate students can be involved. The response was that any way of supporting the passing of the proposal at the November Senate meeting would be welcomed. Also, if the Centre is approved, to get involved in the future.

CiTR Radio – Hugo Noriega, Volunteer Manager (10 min)

CiTR is a student run campus community radio station at UBC with a mandate to provide alternative, informative and campus-based programming. It is valuable to UBC because of its accessibility to everyone, and empowers people to take media into their own hands. They offer programs in 4 different language, including programming for students and community members to develop professional and personally. There are many opportunities for students as well such as student leadership positions, broadcast and journalism training, access to recording facilities, creating ads, getting involved in live broadcasts, new programs and other workshops.

- It was asked what language the programs are in. Response was Mandarin, Russian, Persian, and Spanish. They are always looking to diversify culturally.

Acadia Park – Anne Kessler, AMS VP Academic

The report includes the results from the Needs Assessment for the Acadia Park community. Acadia Park is institutional housing provided to students by the university and has about 1500 residents, 1/3 of which are children. About two years ago, amendments to this land were made dividing it into two sections, one section to be used for public housing. It was brought to AMS’s attention that there might not have been a clear decision process. They found that there wasn’t a good reason for the changes in land use plan. The purpose of the Needs Assessment’s was to get the residents’ accounts of what made the Acadia community perfect for students families as it is now, and to allow them an opportunity to express their views for how they want the community to look like moving forward. Partnering with SHHP, data was collected to be used as a reference for the future through events, focus groups, and surveys. The results were that Acadia is a great community as it exists now. They want to keep community programming but continue to improve it, keep the outdoor component because it’s very important, have better representation in the future, and ensure maintenance and affordability.

Motion to extend the discussion
MOVED Colúm Connolly.; SECONDED Carolyn Beaumont.
PASSED

The report sent to VPS and the response was that a full response would be presentation at the end of Oct, and that the report will be shared with residents. An official stance will be taken to ask the University to reconsider the plans.

- It was asked how far along are they in this plan? Response was that allocation of space is done, but still can be amended,
- It was asked if there are grandfathering laws in the municipality bylaw for that zoning. Response was no. Actual development won’t happen for at least 15 years, so perhaps that’s a reason why they don’t want to engage in issue further now.
- It was asked if there was a plan to make a quantitative assessment (how many people will leave, the cost of people leaving, etc.) since the current one is quite qualitative. Response was that Student Housing and Hospitality has already done some such as projections for the wait list. It shows there’s still very high demand. It’s recommended that a market housing assessment to be done to build the argument around the academic mission of the University by being great place for student families.

Compass Cards/ABCS – Tanner Bokor, AMS VP External

The concept of the UPASS which started in 2003 was to have a universal pass that was easy to use to encourage transit use. Started of as a plastic card, then it became paper (current), it will become the Compass Card. It was expected to happen fall of this year but most likely beginning quarter 1 of 2014 early in the year. GSS doesn’t have an individual contact right now, it’s part of AMS’ contract. Changes to the UPASS program: will be able to get an adult compass card for $16, need to register online every month to get the benefit, tap on tap off feature to assess fare accordingly (with UPASS it’s unlimited so tapping off doesn’t do anything but they encourage students to do so to show they are using the pass). Grad students will still be eligible for the pass even though they aren’t taking courses. Such accommodations can be made in special circumstances, but distance education students will no longer be able to opt in. Exemptions can be made but only under extenuating circumstances. It’s possible to make a special stipulation to mail it if one can’t get to Robson or the bookstore. In terms of privacy, data transferred to Translink is locked tight, can’t be traced and they can only see information for fee enforcement through student ID number. Testing ends Oct 21 for the 30 people. There’s a push for centralized communication so they were asked not to talk about details but there are FAQs on the AMS website. They are also looking to have an office to deal with customer service at AMS with an online ticketing system.

- It was asked if there were only 30 people doing testing. Yes, only allowed 30. Follow up was asked if transportation data can be shared. Response was it’s possible for AMS to get it but can’t share. Maybe it’s something they can work on though.
- It was asked how it works? like oyster card? Yes, it’s the same technology except that the system was custom made for UBC. One card can be used for 5 years.

- It was asked to clarify the $6 preloaded amount. Registration takes 24 hours to set in so the idea is if you run negative balance at that time, it will eat from $6 deposit.
- It was asked why there isn’t auto renewal. Response was that the manual renewal was designed as a dead mans’ trigger. They also thought auto renewal would increase fraud.
- It was asked if there has there been investigation for a Compass chip into the UBC card to avoid distribution or auto renewal issues. Response was that there is indeed an empty stream on UBC card to use but institution won’t agree to let them use it because of access to student databases.
- It was asked about lost or stolen card. You can delink on the website and then ask for a new one. Still have to pay a fee for it.

Chair seeks to extend discussion for 10 minutes for a new presentation on the ABCS
MOVED Colúm Connolly.; SECONDED Jack Hickmott.

The Alliance for BC Students (ABCS) is a non-partisan coalition of 15 institutions across the province including undergrads, grads, and trade students. Made with the concept of a provincial lobbying organization separate from Canada Federation of Students. It is currently in the process of becoming a society. It is meant to not be centralized, it has no office, and has easy in, easy out membership. It’s a brand to lobby with and for sharing resources. Funding is from contribution, officers elected are non-compensated, and there is a balance of large and small institution representation. AGM will be held in Nov. Some issues they’ve talked about: core funding to institutions, graduate scholarship assistance, public transit investment, child care improvements. Future plans include Fall lobby days with scheduled meetings with MLA’s, formal press conference, and a Fall dinner with MLAs to talk needs based grants.

- It was asked if larger institutions would get more votes. Response was no and that they want to keep it balanced.

Policy Revision Consultation: Table of Content, Sections 1–3 – Julienne Jagdeo

This was an introduction to how the policy revision is being done and to give some examples of changes. Track changes are being used to track what’s being added, reformatted, moved or deleted. Changes were made in the ordering of the Table of Contents layout to make it flow better and easier to read. Sections were merged and renamed to make them better reflect the sections in bylaws. Examples of changes: change in language, section additions made like the section on non-departmental student groups, removed voting rights which no longer fits under membership section. They are also taking out redundancy, elaborating on sections such as associate membership, adding guidelines. Will host a Town Hall to get feedback on the nitty-gritty of changes. Welcome feedback.

Amended agenda:
Motion to amend agenda: Reconsider motion of section 5, Physics and Astronomy from September 19 meeting as special order of the day.
Original motion PASSED

Discussion

There was an error, in accordance to bylaw 12.1.5.b, that was realized after the fact. The vote was 14 -10 and had passed by the ordinary 50%, not the 2/3 special resolution so technically it should have failed. If this is true, it’s an illegal motion and needs to be recorded to properly record it. I-clickers were down at that time and the vote was only counted for the 50%.

- It was asked what will happen if the motion to reconsider doesn’t pass. Response was if the minutes are approved, then it can act as if the motion passed with the 2/3 vote.
- It was asked if the motion to reconsider is passed, it is possible to postpone discussion to the next time so that councillors can have more information since not everyone was part of the original discussion and they’ll need the info again to re-vote. Response was that it is possible to postpone the discussion.
- Guillaume not in favour, said he felt it should not be reconsider because each council is standalone and decisions made should be kept as such
- It was asked if we don’t pass the motion to reconsider, will it present a legal issue for GSS because something was passed that was inappropriate. Response was that there are other paths to reconsider for example, council can decide by special order to resend the motion after passing the minutes
- Gabriela supports motion, the point is to sort it out and fix it, doesn’t mean we’ll take the money back, just need to fix the minutes because promises made should be honoured and the most transparent way is to reconsider with the 2/3 vote
- It was asked to clarify the interpretation of the Society’s bylaw around councillors being formally seated

Discussion for section 5 Physics and Astronomy

- Gabriela comments that we shouldn’t just forget what happened because there’s a group who has been budgeting that they had the money, should take into consideration the values that were passed, not sure if just forgetting it aligns with those values
- Paul would like to hear the members from the Physics and Astronomy association to speak, invitation to hear their motivation
- The group wanted to have an event. They were told to have it at GSS in order to access the funding. They did try doing that but was denied due to other events so they decided to move the event back to AMS. The amount of money they are asking for is $600.
- Chris gives background for the Departmental Organization Fund (DOF), it’s fund for department organizations to access $3/student per year. It has some requirements such as giving HF enough notice, displaying the GSS logo, holding the event in the building
- It was asked if the event was already held and the money spent. Response was yes, they spent the money already.
- It was asked if there is another event that they can apply for funding for. Response was no, this is an annual tradition.
- Paul, Gabriela, Hamid, Omid speak in favour saying they went out of their way to go through all the procedures GSS asked of them, that the fund is there to support such events, that GSS needs to keep reputation for their promises
- Tobias against saying that the DOF is used to promote GSS and the Thea Koerner House but as far as he knows, nothing was done to promote GSS.

Meeting called to order again at 8:12 pm

- Council can decide if there is a conflict of interest, if there is a conflict of interest, the person is allowed to speak but can’t vote
- Inti and Sima speak in favour saying they should follow through with the funds since they were made to believe they had it, for the sake of GSS reputation, and that it’s important to have the minutes reflect this because of legal binding

Discussion

- Rob, GSS Business Operations Supervisor, presents that there currently is a low wall. According to building code, not obligated to build something higher but if someone falls, the GSS might get sued
- Gabriela supports this, with all the renovations being done to the pub, now is the time to do this
